

The North Central Council for School Television (NCCST) and Prairie Public announce a partnership to provide North Dakota member schools with access to Learn360, the standards based video streaming service from Sunburst Visual Media and AIM Education.

National Program – Local Support – Local Content – Great Price

From March 1 until July 31, 2009, access is FREE for every school in North Dakota. For the 2009/2010 school year, Learn 360 will be available for schools to purchase at a special rate through the NCCST and Prairie Public for less than $1.00 per student with a cap of $400 per school (elementary, high school, etc).

Learn360 Overview

Sunburst Visual Media and AIM Education launched Learn360 to provide schools with a standards-based, high quality media-on-demand program that is effective, easy to use, and affordable. With Learn360, teachers and students can stream and download the industry's most up to date collection of standards based videos, video clips, and audio programs. You will also find an image library, speeches, and a very popular collection of newsreels. Teachers can find the content via key word search, subject, or North Dakota state standard.

Content Update (4,000 full titles today growing to over 6,000 full videos by September)

Learn360 is aggressively adding new content and now hosts a library of nearly 4,000 full videos. Learn360 has agreements with over 35 content providers such as PBS, National Geographic, and Phoenix Media, and many more. We have acquired many new programs and you will see over 6,000 full video titles by September 2009.

Learn360 offers all-inclusive pricing. This means that all of the content is included with no hidden fees. You will not have to pay more for media packages with the latest content. For example, other services charge extra if you want their PBS video package.

Prairie Public will also be adding Instructional Resources programs and Prairie Public local content to the system.

Every school in the district has access!!!!
